New Castle, Col. Sept. 10.—The most disastrous railway wreck that ever happened in Colorado, occurred at 12:15 this morning a mile and a half west of town. The Denver & Rio Grande passenger No. 1, west bound, collided with a Colorado Midland stock train going east, wrecking both engines and several cars in both trains. Fire broke out in the ruins. The mail, baggage and express cars, smoker day coach and a tourist sleeper burned. A number of passengers who were not killed outright but who were pinned in the wreckage and could not be extricated, perished in the flames. There were about two hundred passengers. Twenty-five persons were killed and as many more were bruised, scalded and burned, of whom over six are likely to die from their injuries.

Emporia, Kas., Sept. 10.—Twelve known dead, one missing (probably incinerated) and fourteen injured, two of whom will likely die, is the record of the terrible head-end collision Wednesday night on the Santa Fe. The first lists were mixed because of the confusion attending the wreck, and all day names on the list of injured have been transferred to that of the dead. Even now it is not positively known that the list given is complete, as it is believed that several were burned to death and nothing left by which they could be recognized. The bodies of eleven have been found in the debris, three burned beyond recognition.

William Frisbee of Topeka, engineer of the east-bound fast mail, who was reported among the injured, expired during the day, and Michael McGlade and R. A. Doran, postal clerks, were found to have been wrongly placed in the list of injured.

Nothing could be found of the remains of Wells-Fargo Express Messenger J. F. C. Sauer. A handful of charred bones taken from the wreck, however, are supposed to be his. Near them was found his watch.

The dead: Michael McGlade, Kansas City, postal clerk; J. F. C. Sauer, Kansas City, Wells-Fargo express messenger; John Shirley, Topeka, fireman; R. A. Doran of Emporia, postal clerk; Nate Hollister of Topeka, fireman; James Brennan of Topeka, engineer; C. W. Van Cleave, brakeman; Ben Walters of St. Joseph, fireman; Gonzales, fireman; Dan McKeenan, a tramp; William Bristol, Topeka, engineer; unknown tramp.

Missing: Harvey Fowler, a farmer of Emporia.

The injured: J. M. Bell, Florence; hip injured; Alex Ferguson, Kansas City, conductor on No. 1; hips hurt; Claude Holliday, Lawrence, express messenger; both legs broken; D. O. Etler, Kansas City, express messenger; legs broken; John Dagan of Topeka, face maimed; J. T. Butler, county attorney of Chase county, hip broken, may die; William F. Jones of Kansas City, leg and arm broken; H. P. Melick of Atchison, badly hurt; Phil Schler, express messenger, Kansas City, hips crushed; William Patrick, Kansas City, leg and arm broken; C. D. Adams of the City of Mexico, painfully bruised; Mike Sweeney of Gainesville, Texas, back hurt; R. O. McGee of Kansas City, postal clerk; E. C. Fletcher, Kansas City, postal clerk.

SUICIDE THEORY GAINS.

The Testimony Seems to Show That Struble Killed Himself.

Shepherd, Mich., Sept. 10.—The testimony in the Struble case, strengthening the theory that suicide was the cause of the cashier's death, has aroused much excitement. Threats have been uttered and the witnesses have been cautioned in giving testimony. The fact that the mysterious "Sutton," who deposited and had checks cashed, cannot be found and the other fact that "Sutton's" handwriting has been declared by experts to be simply Struble's disguised strengthens the suicide theory.

"Was Struble dishonest?" was asked Deputy Sheriff Estee, who is also president of the Commercial state bank here.

"I never heard before that he was," Mr. Estee replied, "but the day before his death he gave the county treasurer of Isabella a check for $459 on a bank where he knew he had no money, and which was returned protested."

The widow of the cashier testified at the inquest Thursday. Her husband on the night before his death sang "I Must Tell Jesus All of My Troubles." He was overworked. She had seen private papers of his in the desk at home, but had been unable to find them since that fatal Friday morning.

MAY GIVE UP THE UNIFORM.

Strong Pressure Being Brought to Bear on the Sons of Veterans.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 10.—The most important question before the national encampment of the Sons of Veterans is whether the order shall abolish the military and uniform features. Commander in Chief Rake at the opening session of the encampment took a positive stand in favor of the proposed change.

Senior Vice-Commander Leo W. Kennedy of Colorado in his report recommended that a committee be appointed to report at the next annual encampment a system of life insurance within the order.

The report of R. H. Hammock, adjutant-general, showed that there are now 1,364 camps, with a total membership of 36,709. Rudolph Loebenstein of Chicago, the quartermaster-general, stated that the revenues of the order are being constantly reduced.

Ohio Gold Democrats Nominate.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 10.—The gold democrats placed a full state ticket in the field Thursday, reaffirmed the Indianapolis platform and unanimously endorsed ex-Congressman J. H. Outwaite of Columbus for United States senator. The convention was harmonious in all respects. The following is the ticket: For governor, Julius Dexter; for lieutenant-governor, A. E. Merrill; judge of the Supreme court, John H. Clarke; attorney-general, Daniel Wilson; state treasurer, Samuel Stevens; state commissioner of schools, W. H. Johnson; for member of state board of public works, Henry D. Coffinberry.

Surprise for Fraternity Members.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 10.—An unpleasant surprise awaits the 3,000 members of the Michigan Masonic Life Association, which went into the hands of a receiver at its own request last winter. Circuit Judge Grove will, in a few days, issue a decree assessing each member $60 to clear up the liabilities. The Grand Rapids members will at once carry the case to the Supreme court, on the ground that they ceased to be members when they stopped paying assessments on their policies last December.

Spanish Spy at Work.

New York, Sept. 10.—A dispatch from Washington says: The war department has the name of the Spanish emissary who has been inspecting the fortifications along the Atlantic seaboard. The secret agent is Lieut. S. C. Sebral, naval attaché of the Spanish legation at Washington. Lieut. Sebral is not a member of the diplomatic corps and is not, therefore, subject to a demand for recall, unless it can be shown he has violated some statute respecting the safeguarding of our fortifications.

United Brethren Adjourn.

Glassford, Ill., Sept. 10.—The Illinois conference of the Church of the United Brethren in Christ, has concluded its fifty-third annual session, begun Sept. 1 and held at Copperas Creek church, three miles northeast of here. This conference consists of twenty-four fields of labor with a membership of 3,500. This conference is taking advance steps respecting home missions and is enthusiastic in its support of the interests of church erection and foreign missions.

Baney and VanTassel Freed.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 10.—Noah Baney and Guy VanTassel were released from the county jail Thursday on their own recognizance after a hearing in the criminal court, in which it developed that the state has no evidence against them. Both men said that they would go before the Hendricks County grand jury in the Hinchshaw case if wanted, but when asked about his confession exonerating the minister Baney grinned and walked away.

Knights Templar in a Wreck.

Lima, Ohio, Sept. 10.—The south-bound accommodation train on the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton ran into the rear end of a section of a south-bound freight train near Perrysburg at 7:45 Thursday evening, wrecking both trains. A number of passengers are reported injured, but none fatally. A number of Knights Templars from this and neighboring cities were on board en route home from the state convocation.

Commissioner Evans at His Desk.

Washington, Sept. 10.—Commissioner of Pensions H. Clay Evans, who has been ill for about a week, has resumed his official duties.

New Customs Tariff of Cuba.

Madrid, Sept. 10.—The Official Gazette publishes a new customs tariff of Cuba. Nearly all American goods are subject to lower duties.

SPAIN IS BACKED BY ALL EUROPE

REPORT OF AN UNDERSTANDING IS CONFIRMED.

America Must Not Interfere—British and French Governments Alleged to Have Renewed Their Assurances of "Diplomatic Help"—Story is Likely True.

St. Louis, Sept. 10.—Comte Henri de Penaloza, who has been visiting friends in St. Louis for a few days, said that the rumor of an understanding between Spain and other European nations looking to a check upon American interference with Cuba, was confirmed by information which came to him from high authority.

De Penaloza said: "Some time last September, when the Cuban question was so much agitated in the United States, even to the point of furnishing planks to the declarations of presidential conventions, Senor Canovas del Castillo, then premier of Spain, received assurances from the British and French governments through their representatives at Madrid that they would not permit any action on the part of the United States other than a very perfunctory recognition of the belligerency of the insurgents."

"On Aug. 5, before leaving Paris, I learned from trustworthy sources that this assurance had been renewed."

Washington, Sept. 10.—Intimations have been given out during the past few days from inner administration circles that the president is getting ready to put into effect a new policy in regard to the Cuban situation. The suggestion is made that Mr. McKinley will interfere for the purpose of restoring peace on the island, but it is not indicated what form the contemplated interference will assume.

There is no pretense that the information on this subject is official, although it comes from persons who are supposed to be in the confidence of the president. They say it is significant that Mr. McKinley will return to Washington from his summer vacation about the time Minister Woodford is presented to the queen regent at San Sebastian; that Consul General Lee will arrive here about the time the president does; that Assistant Secretary Day is already here and that Secretary Sherman, who had promised to make a speech in Ohio one week from to-day, has canceled the appointment, and now says he will not take any part in the Ohio campaign.

It is doubtful if any particular importance should be attached to these things, but the sympathizers with Cuba profess to see in them a hope that the island will soon be delivered from its oppressors. It is expected that when his credentials have been accepted by the queen regent Minister Woodford will proceed to lay before her majesty's government the instructions given him by the state department when he received his commission.

The public is not informed of the nature of these instructions, but it is thought they require Mr. Woodford to inform the Spanish authorities that this government believes the time has arrived when the destructive war which has been in progress in Cuba for nearly three years must cease.

EXPERTS TESTIFY.

Bones Found in the Luetgert Factory Shown to the Jury.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Various finds made by the police in the Luetgert factory and around and about were produced in court Thursday. They consist of bones, matter scraped from the floor and the vat, putrid flesh, alleged to be human, and ashes.

The state proved that all the bones found in connection with the case have been treated with a strong solution of potash. Expert Mark Delafontaine testified that the ashes taken from the smokehouse and from the engine room furnace contained large quantities of phosphoric acid, showing that bones or blood or both were burned up in the smokehouse fire set by Luetgert.

Prof. Gibson swore that in his judgment the putrid flesh dug up near the salt house is analogous to human flesh. New experts have been retained by the state and the defense, and all were present. The experts are examining a large bone, which they expect to identify as a bone from a human foot. It was found in the ashes taken from the furnace. The court adjourned to permit the work to be completed.

The experts retained by the defense laugh at the testimony given by Professors Delafontaine and Gibson, and say that in the light of science it is foolish and childish.

Judge Tuthill announced that he would not limit the speeches of the counsel, and expects that the state will close its case this week and that the trial will last two weeks longer.

Ontario Has a Gold Strike.

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 10.—L. O. Armstrong, colonization agent for the Canadian Pacific railway, has received a report from Michipicoten, Ont., which confirms the reports of valuable gold finds in that district, the yellow metal being found in quartz, sand and dirt.

LEADER RATCHFORD VERY CONFIDENT

SATISFIED COAL STRIKE WILL SOON BE ENDED.

Conference Not Concluded—Leaders Urge the Delegates to Accept the Terms Proposed by the Operators—Strong Fight Made by Illinois Miners.

Columbus, O., Sept. 10.—The result of the miners' conference is still a matter of serious conjecture, although it is believed that the ranks of those favoring a temporary settlement have received some accessions. President Ratchford insisted that to carry on the fight would result in an ultimate settlement far less favorable than that proposed, and if the miners persisted in their demands it would be next to impossible to establish a fair rate at the coming annual scale convention. A settlement would insure a continuance of public sympathy and the good-will of the operators. District President Farms of Ohio and Dolan of Pittsburg spoke in a similar strain.

President Ratchford said: "You may predict, with every degree of certainty, that a settlement will be reached and that the action of the national board in recommending a settlement will be endorsed. The delegates are beginning to see that the best thing they can do is to accept the proposition of the operators and return to work at the price offered."

The question as to whether a settlement on the lines proposed can be made general appears to be the stumbling block at this time. If the delegates from Illinois, Indiana, West Virginia and portions of Ohio were assured that the settlement would be beneficial to them as well as to the miners of the Pittsburg district they would not hesitate to vote for settlement. The Illinois miners have not changed their position, and positively decline to accept the terms of settlement proposed by the national board. The officials have partially met the argument of the Illinois miners by saying that if the Illinois delegates will agree to a settlement, so that the miners of other states can resume work, the Illinois operators will be forced to pay the price by their competitors in other states. Should Illinois agree to this arrangement, Indiana and West Virginia will fall into line without hesitation.

To Start the Torrey Mine.

Clinton, Ind., Sept. 10.—Mr. D. S. Bogle, superintendent of the Torrey Mining company, announces that the Torrey mines will resume work next Monday. He says all who desire to resume work can do so, and those who do not will be forced to vacate the company's houses. The miners insist that out of loyalty to the federation and their families they will do all in their power to prevent work at the Torrey mine until the strike is settled, but they stoutly disclaim any intention of violent interference.

Women Menace De Armit.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 10.—The work of evicting the striking miners at Plum creek and Clarksburg was begun Thursday, and as the result of two evictions serious trouble was threatened by a mob of women armed with clubs and baseball bats, who lay in wait for Superintendent De Armit and the deputy sheriffs.

Methodists at Lebanon, Ind.

Lebanon, Ind., Sept. 10.—Thursday morning's session of the northwestern Indiana conference was opened by an address by Bishop Walden. He opposed the proposal to adopt layman representation in the conference. It was voted to apply one-fourth of the proceeds of the Methodist Book Concern to the maintenance of superannuated ministers and the widows and orphans of deceased ministers. The report of President Gobin of DePauw university on the finances of the college shows its affairs to be in poor condition.

Train Falls With the Bridge.

Portland, Ind., Sept. 10.—At an early hour Thursday morning a west-bound Lake Erie & Western train was wrecked on the trestle over Half-Way creek at Albany, thirteen cars going down with one span of the bridge. The dead: Charles Manners, of Portland, Ind. The injured: Orlando Collins of Portland, Ind., fatally. Several tramps were on the train and the fact that the wrecking crew found a hat lends color to the belief that there are other bodies somewhere in the debris, which will not be cleaned away for many hours.

Warns Americans to Go Slow.

London, Sept. 10.—The Daily Mail in an editorial on the reported preparations in the United States for a fight with Spain warns the American government and the Americans that they had better content themselves with writing warlike articles and firing Fourth of July squibs instead of running into battle with "stupid Europeans who mean business and fire real bullets."

Eiect an Illinois Man.

Columbus, O., Sept. 10.—At the business meeting of the Army of West Virginia Thursday a committee was appointed, headed by Gen. I. H. Duval of Wellsburg, W. Va., to draft resolutions on the life, character and death of Col. Starr of the 9th West Virginia regiment. W. H. Powell, Belleville, Ill., was chosen president.

New Cases of Yellow Fever.

Washington, Sept. 10.—Dr. John Guiteras, the yellow-fever expert, telegraphed to Surgeon-General Wyman Thursday as follows from Ocean Springs, Miss.: "Of three suspicious cases reported by me yesterday one confirms yellow fever by autopsy, another by subsequent course; the third case is not yellow fever. We have, then, two cases in a sick list of forty. There have been here a few cases of yellow fever in the midst of a widespread epidemic of dengue." Dr. Wyman has taken measures to strengthen the border line, inspection service being already inaugurated by the states of Alabama and Louisiana to prevent the spread of the disease.

Nebraska Loses Much Corn.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 10.—No rain has fallen in Nebraska for a month. Reports received by the state board of agriculture from each county in the state and carefully tabulated show that the drought has cost Nebraska very nearly the whole of its late corn crop, estimated by the board to be between 75,000,000 and 100,000,000 bushels. However, the hot weather matured the early corn crop and 300,000,000 bushels of it is beyond danger from heat or frost.

Father's Mad Deed.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Vedella Sayers, 22 years old, who lived with her parents at 874 North Western avenue was so badly burned by the explosion of a lamp hurled at her brother by her father last night that she cannot recover. The affair was the result of a family quarrel, inaugurated by the father, Charles Sayers, so say the remaining members of the family, because his supper was not ready when he arrived at home shortly before 9 o'clock.

Novak Refuses to Talk.

Belle Plaine, Iowa, Sept. 10.—Novak has refused to make a statement before the grand jury. That body is now taking evidence in his case and will complete its investigation to-night, though its findings may not be known for some days.

MOONLIGHT STILL FOUND IN ASHLAND

ILLICIT DISTILLERY BROUGHT TO LIGHT.

John Walenozka, the Proprietor, is Under Arrest and Other Arrests Will Be Made—Negaunee Trammers Strike For Five Cents a Day and Tie Up Mines.

Ashland, Sept. 10.—[Special]—Officers raided an illicit distillery here this morning and arrested John Walenozka and captured his entire outfit. The prisoner waived examination and was bound over to the United States court in $1,000 bonds. Other arrests will be made.

Negaunee Trammers Strike

Negaunee, Sept. 10.—[Special]—Trammers at the Negaunee mine quit work this morning because the management refused to grant them a raise of five cents per day. It is feared that the trammers at other mines will also demand an increase. Miners have no grievances but will be unable to work when the trammers are idle.

Yellow Fever Situation Hopeful.

Washington, Sept. 9.—The yellow fever situation continues hopeful and encouraging, so far as the information received at the Marine hospital is concerned. Surgeon General Wyman is pushing measures to confine and stamp out the disease should it eventually prove to be yellow jack. Surgeon H. C. Carter of Chicago, who is a fever expert of large experience, and Surgeon Murray, who will be in command at Ocean Springs, have announced their arrival.

Wife Murderer Dies in Jail.

Mount Holly, N. J., Sept. 10.—James Robinson, who brutally murdered his wife Aug. 8 by cutting her throat at their home at Fieldsboro, near Bordentown, died in the county jail here last night of tuberculosis. After murdering his wife Robinson attempted suicide by slashing his throat with the razor. He was treated at the Trenton Hospital, since which time he had been in the jail here.

Heavy Failure in New York.

New York, Sept. 10.—James R. Willard, Elmer Dwigins and Jay Dwigins, who compose the firm of J. R. Willard & Co., bankers and brokers, with offices in this city, Buffalo, Washington, D. C., Philadelphia and Montreal, have assigned to James L. Starbuck, with preferences for $20,000 to William H. Osterhout. No statement of the condition of the firm is yet obtainable, but it is estimated that their liabilities will reach $1,000,000. Jay Dwigins is at present traveling in Europe.

Forest Fires Are Spreading.

Buffalo, Wyo., Sept. 10.—The forest fire which has been burning for two or three weeks in the Big Horn country continues unabated, and is spreading rapidly, fanned by a high gale. Already about twenty miles square are reported covered and millions of feet of timber destroyed. There is no prospect of rain, and unless something is done by the government there is no limit to the loss which may be sustained.

Rich Find of Gold.

MODERN WOODMEN HAVE FOUGHT HARD

LITIGATION OVER LOCATION OF HEADQUARTERS.

Controversy is an Old One, Dating Back Almost to the Foundation of the Order—Points Which Judge Jenkins Was Called Upon to Decide.

The Modern Woodmen controversy, which has excited so much interest in this city, and which was settled temporarily in Milwaukee yesterday is an affair of long standing. William A. Penn, the complainant, was one of the men who assisted Joseph C. Roots in 1882 to organize the Modern Woodmen of the World at Lyons, Ia., and became an officer of the first camp instituted. The organization belongs to the class of fraternal insurance companies and has a membership of 250,000 in the United States.

In 1883 the several camps, then in convention at Fulton, Ill., organized the head camp. A charter was secured and the perpetual office was located by the charter granted by the secretary of the state of Illinois at Fulton. There was a board of eleven directors or executive committee, charged with the administration of the order.

In 1890 the organization had a number of state camps and an element in the order began to chafe over the head camp. It was claimed that the state organizations forming a national organization had an undoubted right to administer the business of the order and the result of a convention at Springfield was the prevalence of the opinion that the camp headquarters should be removed to Rock Island. The old board of trustees by amendment, was cut down to five and the outsiders as the Fulton people term the members at large, secured control of the order. Repeated attempts to remove the headquarters to Rock Island were foiled by the rival organizations at Fulton, which asserted that the old board was still in power by virtue of the charter.

The people of Rock Island began to take an interest in the controversy. They wanted the headquarters, and after legal obstructions were placed in their way they resorted to force. One night about three months ago a trainload of Rock Island people made an attack on Fulton and were repulsed, a number of people being injured in the riot that followed the attempt to raid the headquarters. Since then injunctions and counter injunctions have followed each other in rapid succession. The Fulton people, however, still have the headquarters. Just as the affair looked the darkest to the Fulton people it was decided to appeal to the federal courts. Some one not a resident of Illinois would have to bring the bill to get into the jurisdiction of the federal court. William A. Penn volunteered to lend his name as complainant to the bill.

In the bill for an injunction he declares that the action of the Springfield convention of 1890 was unconstitutional, and asks the court to restrain the board of trustees or executive committee from further interference pending the adjudication of the court on the issue raised. The bill presented to Judge Jenkins is directed against the board, composed of William A. Northcott, Charles W. Hawes, John W. White, William Quackenbush and Jasper N. Reece.

DIVIDEND OF 3 PER CENT.

C. M. & St. P. Directors Decide That Times Are Better.

The directors of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Co. met in New York yesterday and declared a dividend of 3 per cent on the common stock for the half year. A dividend of 2 per cent was declared for the preceding six months. Yesterday's action was regarded as a permanent increase in the dividend rate from 4 to 5 per cent, and not only favorably affected the St. Paul securities but those of other granger roads. St. Paul stock touched 101, the highest figure in fifteen years. The lowest price during the 1896 Bryan panic was 58 and the price May 1, this year, 70.

OY HIT BY BRAKE BEAM

Laman Loses Part of Foot By Playing Near Track

George Laman, a young son of Charles Laman, while standing near the railway track at Rockton, in company with his mother and other children, undertook to toss a stone to a brakeman on a passing gravel train and was struck by a brake block and knocked down. In falling he rolled away from the train, but one foot was caught by the wheels, taking off three toes and lacerating the foot badly.

BUFFALO BILL'S WILD WEST

Special Features of Artillery and Cavalry Drills by Regulars.

In the public mind Buffalo Bill is not regarded merely as a successful showman he is more than a mere scout and soldier of unquestioned bravery and physical courage and desperate deeds of personal prowess, he is rightly held as a popular hero whose name is closely allied with advance of civilization beyond the Missouri river.

The new feature that will prove the more attractive will probably be the skillful and spirited artillery drill of Captain Thorpe's Battery B. from the Fifth Regiment, U. S. A. Many officers of the army, including some of the generals, regard the battery as the best trained in any of the armies of the world. The drill varies from the regulation drill in the use of six horses to each of the two guns instead of the regulation number of four.

This requires a far greater degree of skill by the postilion drivers, and this skill is made one of the features of their exhibition drill. All the details of the handling of artillery in real action are shown.

Another feature is the wonderful exhibition of bareback riding by a detachment from Colonel Sumner's Sixth United States Cavalry. The entire troop riding together performs feats that might arouse jealousy of the most renowned solo riders in the circus ring.

Some Magyar gypsy Csikos from Hungary, the first to be brought to this country, form another interesting feature. The foreign soldiers and the wild riders from every continent, including the Cossacks, and the Indians in greater numbers than ever before, will be seen in that stupendous kaleidoscope of color and action, the grand introductory review.

A BUTTON MAKER IN TOWN

E. A. Evans of Springfield, Mass., Objects to Janesville Clam Prices.

E. A. Evans of Springfield, Mass., was in town this week, investigating the clam market. Mr. Evans, who was the guest of Richard Finley, was here in the interest of a pearl button factory. He made no purchases, claiming that the prices together with freight charges would not justify his buying the grade of shells that local hunters have on hand.

APPLES NOT VERY PLENTY

There Probably Will Be No Such Glut As Last Year

M. H. Soverhill is home after an apple buying trip in New York state. Mr. Soverhill says that the New York crop this year is not so promising as last year's and that apples will not be of as fine quality. The prices, he thinks, will be higher. The plum and peach crop in the east, he says, seems to be unlimited and prices are the lowest known in years.

TOBACCO IS BULKY AND HEAT IS FEARED

FEW FARMERS HAVE SHED ROOM ENOUGH.

Unusual Weight of Leaf as Compared to Acreage Has Made Calculation Difficult—Hot Days Cause Concern Among Growers—Sutter's Imitating Sumatra Markings.

Milton, Wis., Sept. 10.—J. L. and M. F. Green have just finished sampling a lot of '92 tobacco stored here and today shipped three carloads to eastern parties. The new crop is now in the shed and is the most bulky crop produced in years, the sheds that accommodate the same acreage last year being entirely inadequate for the year's product. The intense heat and its accompanying dry atmosphere of the past week has not been a good thing for the new tobacco, as it causes it to dry up rather than come out properly, and the crop will be of a papery texture should the present temperature continue any length of time.

Sutter Bros. have purchased fifty acres of tobacco in the vicinity of Cambridge. It is the intention of the purchaser to sprinkle a preparation upon the leaf for the purpose of making an imitation of Sumatra leaf. A number of men are now at work sprinkling the leaf.

WHAT THE STATE IS DOING

THE natural advantages of Bayfield harbor have at last received recognition from outside capital. W. F. Darr, the promoter of these roads, planned his faith on this natural deep-water, rock-bottomed harbor thirty years ago, and has made large investments on the strength of his faith. There is no other harbor on the chain of lakes where the depth of water obtained here naturally can be secured without dredging. The survey made by the government engineers shows this to be one of the finest commercial harbors in the world.

The town board of Oshkosh has granted a franchise to the Fox River Valley Electric company and work upon a line to connect Oshkosh and Neenah will shortly be commenced. M. J. Degnon of Cleveland is contractor.

NOT A TIME FOR WOE.

At the county fair this fall R. M. La Follette has been a frequent speaker. He has proposed some important questions, but at the same time has excited critical comment by his statements of prevailing conditions. The Oshkosh Northwestern, which is very friendly to Mr. La Follette, says:

"When Mr. La Follette begins to arraign class against class and to talk about the poor starving in the midst of plenty, and to tell how the rich tread upon the poor, and to draw the doleful pictures of society on an economic canvas, he is launching into a field where the best thought of the land cannot agree with him. * * * It matters not in what condition society may be in general—even if the millennium were at hand—instances of misfortune could be found, sickness in the midst of health, death in the midst of life, distress in the midst of abundance. But the world's progress is not measured by isolated cases or even temporary conditions arising from specific causes, be they natural or artificial. Advancement must be noted by the condition of society as a whole, and largely by the condition of the better and more intelligent elements in society—the greater mass of the people. * * * Let every man compare his own fortunes, his own times, with the fortunes and times of his father and his father's father and ask himself whether he be ought not to be content rather than discontented with the age in which he lives and the paths in which his lot is cast. The commonest workingman today has a home his father never dreamed of. He has public conveniences that were unknown to his parents before him. He has about him conveniences that were unknown to his parents before him. He lives in a palace compared with the loghouse or the shanty in which his forefathers dwelt. He dresses and eats what his father never dreamed of. He rests where his father worked. His children play the piano whereas his father's children had to be content with a mouth organ. His horse and carriage have taken the place of his father's ox team. The old oak bucket in his father's well has been succeeded by water faucets and bathtubs in his own house. And so many comparisons be carried on indefinitely. But above all have the poor sons of poor fathers risen to distinction in all the walks of life, in contradistinction to the failures which the sons of wealth have too often proved to be. In fact, this is preeminently a poor man's country—a country of opportunities and institutions conducive to the self-making of the poor man. In no other country on the globe do the poor, but industrious and frugal find such fields of opportunity and encouragement spread out before them. Let us not poison the public mind with the false notion that government is wholly responsible for our success or failure in life, regardless of our individual efforts and our disposition to diligently make use of the opportunities we have."

The Madison Journal, referring to these speeches, remarks: "We had observed this same disposition on the part of our nervous and theatrical young townsman to ferret out the seamy side of modern life and hold it up to the morbid delectation of our rural folks, even with wheat at a dollar a bushel; but we had ascribed this tendency to some temporary bodily ailment—some jaundice, or touch of liver complaint, perhaps—which the soothing chill of autumn would relieve. * * * But, of course, if that restless, cloying passion, ambition, has entered the soul, then we charge 'Bob' to throw it away. Apart from its elusive character and similarity to husks from the standpoint of nutrition, ambition has no place in a campaign of calamity at present. It is a reflection on President McKinley. It fouls the bed of republicanism, which is dominant in nation and state; by very inference the teaching of calamity at this time suggests the election of some one who will do better—democrats, perhaps, or even populists. This may be fitting and timely political propaganda for the Dakota brother, who is an avowed populist; but it is a misfit role for a Wisconsin republican who aspires to be leader. Mr. La Follette should cheer up. He should fling away ambition. He should polish up his party loyalty. The nation still lives. We'll agree to rap on his door when its time to cut away the masts and to wake him when the ship of state tosses on a lee shore."

ASHAMED OF THEIR ISSUE.

From Ohio word comes that the democrats are trying to run away from their platform, made only two months ago. This is not surprising for silver has fallen 15 per cent in value even in that short time. On July 10th one ounce of silver was worth in New York 60-6 cents. Now it is worth only 52 cents and is still falling. No wonder that they are ashamed of their platform and want to get away from it when in two months after its enunciation the metal which it advocates as money falls 15 per cent in value. That the republicans of the state will not let them get away from it goes without saying—if they are wise. That they will sweep the state now that they have the enemy on the run also goes without saying—if they are not too confident.

The Kansas farmers are paying off forty millions of indebtedness this year. How lucky for the populists that this didn't happen a year ago. They wouldn't have carried an elector anywhere.

The fact that the banks have larger deposits than ever before and that rates of interest are low, seems to weaken the populist theory that this country has no money enough.

According to Tom Watson, there will not be a sixteen-to-one free coinage man left in the democratic party this fall. He says that the only place for them is in the populist ranks.

Will wonders never cease? Wm. J. Bryan, in a recent article in New York paper on wheat and silver, says "those who advocate free coinage may be wrong."

The western farmers are not burning corn this year; they are burning mortgages.

Try to Wreck an Alton Train.
Alton, Ill., Sept. 10.—Detectives of the Chicago & Alton road are at work investigating what they believe was a dastardly attempt to wreck the Chicago palace express train which passes through Alton at 6 o'clock in the morning. Soon after daybreak this morning a heavy bridge crossing the Alton track in the deep cut just outside of the city limits was discovered afire. The Chicago train was due in a short time, and a messenger ran up the track to intercept it. His warning was timely, for the train could hardly have escaped a wreck at the bridge. The belief is that the bridge was oiled and set on fire with a view to wrecking the big train.

Denies the Panama Story.
Washington, Sept. 10.—The attention of Senor Julio Rengifo, the representative of the Republic of Colombia, was called to the reports that Colombia had granted a concession to Great Britain to complete the Panama canal, thus transferring that mammoth enterprise from French to British hands. Gen. Rengifo expressed great doubt as to the accuracy of the reports, and pointed out a number of circumstances showing that it was impossible that such a concession to Great Britain or any other foreign government had been granted.

Insurgents in Full Control.
Key West, Fla., Sept. 10.—Another large expedition has landed on the north coast in Havana province. It carried a large amount of dynamite, ammunition and all other supplies needed. The insurgents are now in full control of the pacified provinces.

Gage Approves the Commission.
Washington, Sept. 10.—Secretary Gage said the commission appointed by Chairman Hanna of the Indianapolis convention was a splendid one, and he hoped it would accomplish something in its attempt to bring about a revision of the currency laws.

SNEEZES AND TEARS ARE THE LOT OF ALL

HAY FEVER VERY PREVALENT
THIS SUMMER.

Regular Epidemic of Influenza Prevails
—Physicians Disagree as to the Cause But All Are Ready to Admit the Fact—Hot Weather Held Responsible.

It is not the rich man alone who has hay fever this week. The town has been stricken with an epidemic of influenza, which is a general term for cold in the head, hay fever and other undesirable summer ailments.

The physicians are reaping a harvest out of this epidemic of colds. Each has a theory of his own as to the cause of the prevalence of influenza. Some hold that it is simply a malarial trouble which shows itself regularly every fall and makes life a burden to the unfortunate who is compelled to remain in the city during July, August and September.

Say Pollen Is to Blame
Other equally as high medical authorities say it is simply a congestion growing out of the atmospheric conditions and the presence of the pollen from plants. While medical authorities differ as to the cause, there are many people ready to testify as to the unpleasant effects of the epidemic. The majority of the sufferers are ready to accept the second theory. They are convinced by the unpleasant sensation in the nostrils that there is pollen or something equally as irritating there which causes them to sneeze.

Many Are Suffering.

Physicians, while differing to a certain extent as to the cause, all agree that the epidemic is more widespread in the city than it has been in years past. This, some of them believe, is due to the extremely hot weather and the heavy growth of weeds. The hot, dry weather has brought out clouds of dust, which has a peculiar aptitude for getting just where it is the most desired. When it gets in the breathing apparatus it causes a congestion of the mucous membranes, and results in the disagreeable feeling known as a cold or influenza.

Etiquette of the Disease.

Whatever the cause may be the fact is unquestioned. It is quite the thing now when you meet a friend to bow low, bury your face in your handkerchief and howl as though your head was coming off. When a man goes to talk business on the street and sneezes it should not be considered a act of discourtesy, it is simply a way of emphasizing what is said, even if a man sneezes real hard and his bewilderment starts down the street without finishing his conversation it should not be considered a breach of etiquette. You will do the me thing yourself later unless you use a special pull with the health officer.

JCK HUNTING VERY POOR

Weather Has Made the Birds Reep Quiet Since Sept. 1.

Duck hunting has been very poor at Ashkonoong since the season opened. Hunters ascribe this to the hot weather which has prevailed and state that when it is so warm the ducks quack and do not fly so much, making it more difficult to find them. Good shooting is expected as soon as the weather gets cooler.

POST OFFICE SOLD TO A. P. LOVEJOY

PRICE PAID WAS THIRTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

The Deal Closed Today—It Includes the Crossett & Bonesteel Mill, Water Power and Double Store Building—Property Is Regarded As Very Desirable.

The biggest real estate transfer recorded in Janesville for many months, was put on the books today, Mrs. Marion P. Leavitt selling the postoffice property and the Crossett & Bonesteel mill to A. P. Lovejoy.

The price paid was $30,000, and the deal was made by Frank L. Stevens, who has been conducting negotiations for some time.

The property is regarded as very desirable including as it does the mill and water power, post office quarters, law offices and drug store.

At the time the plans for a new post-office were under discussion the government secured a reduction in the rent paid for the postoffice quarters, but the rental is still said to be a handsome one.

DEPOT PLANS ARE ALL READY

Superintendent Moulton Will Go to Chicago As Soon As Council Acts.

Superintendent Fred E. Moulton of the C. & N. W. is wanted in Chicago the day after the city council vacates Wall street. In case the street is not vacated he can postpone his visit—probably for many years to come.

A letter arrived in the city yesterday from headquarters in Chicago stating that plans for Janesville's new depot had been completed and that in case the council vacated the street work would begin just as soon as the officials could consult with Mr. Moulton.

The crowd at this year's picnic was not much larger than that of last year. The biggest share of the money was made by cutting down expenses.

AN INCIDENT OF GETTYSBURG.

By T. J. MAOKEY, Late Captain U. S. A.

[Copyright, 1897, by the Author.]

Though never a war was fought with more earnestness than our own late war between the north and the south, never a war was marked by more deeds of noble kindness between men, officers and privates of the contending sides. Serving at the front during the entire war as a captain of engineers in the Confederate army, many such deeds came under my own personal observation, while many more have been related to me by credible eyewitnesses. Here is one especially worthy of record:

The advance of the Confederate line of battle commenced early on the morning of July 1, 1863, at Gettysburg. The infantry division commanded by Major General John B. Gordon of Georgia was among the first to attack. Its objective point was the left of the Second corps of the Union army. The daring commander of that corps occupied a position so far advanced beyond the main line of the Federal army that while it invited attack it placed him beyond the reach of ready support when the crisis of battle came to him in the rush of charging lines more extended than his own. The Confederate advance was steady, and it was bravely met by the Union troops, who for the first time found themselves engaged in battle on the soil of the north, which until then had been virgin to the war. It was "a far cry" from Richmond to Gettysburg, yet Lee was in their front, and they seemed resolved to welcome their southern visitors "with bloody hands to hospitable graves." But the Federal flanks rested in air, and, being turned, the line was badly broken, and, despite a bravely resolute defense against the well ordered attack of the Confederate veterans, was forced to fall back.

Gordon's division was in motion at a double quick to seize and hold the vantage ground in his front from which the opposing line had retreated when he saw directly in his path the apparently dead body of a Union officer. He checked his horse, and then observed, from the motion of the eyes and lips, that the officer was still living. He at once dismounted, and seeing that the head of his wounded foeman was lying in a depression in the ground placed under it a nearby knapsack. While raising him at the shoulders for that purpose he saw that the blood was trickling from a bullet hole in the back, and then knew that the officer had been shot through the breast. He then gave him a drink from a flask of brandy and water, and, as the man revived, said, while bending over him: "I am very sorry to see you in this condition. I am General Gordon. Please tell me who you are. I wish to aid you all I can."

The answer came in feeble tones: "Thank you, general. I am Brigadier General Barlow of New York. You can do nothing more for me. I am dying." Then, after a pause, he said: "Yes, you can. My wife is at the headquarters of General Meade. If you survive the battle, please let her know that I died doing my duty."

General Gordon replied: "Your message, if I live, shall surely be given to your wife. Can I do nothing more for you?"

After a brief pause General Barlow responded: "May God bless you! Only one thing more—feel in the breast pocket of my coat—the left breast—and take out a packet of letters."

As General Gordon unbuttoned the blood soaked coat and took out the packet the seemingly dying soldier said:

Resting on one knee at his side, General Gordon read the letter.

"Now please take out one and read it to me. They are from my wife. I wish that her words shall be the last I hear in this world."

Resting on one knee at his side, General Gordon, in clear tones, but with tearful eyes, read the letter. It was the missive of a noble woman to her worthy husband, whom she knew to be in daily peril of his life, and with pious fervor breathed a prayer for his safety and commended him to the care of the God of battles. As the reading of the letter ended General Barlow said: "Thank you. Now please tear them all up. I would not have them read by others."

General Gordon tore them into fragments and scattered them on the field "shot down and bladed thick with steel." Then, pressing General Barlow's hand, General Gordon bade him goodby, and, mounting his horse, quickly joined his command.

He hastily penned a note on the pommel of his saddle, giving General Barlow's message to his wife, but stated that he was still living, though seriously wounded, and informing her where he lay. Addressing the note to "Mrs. General Barlow, at General Meade's Headquarters," he handed it to one of his staff and told him to place a white handkerchief upon his sword and ride in a gallop toward the enemy's line and deliver the note to Mrs. Barlow. The officer promptly obeyed the order. He was not fired upon, and, on being met by a Union officer who advanced to learn his business, he presented the note, which was received and read with the assurance that it should be delivered instantly.

Let us turn from Gettysburg to the capital, Washington, where, 11 years later, General Gordon held with honor, as now, a seat as senator of the United States, and was present at a dinner party given by Orlando B. Potter, a representative in congress from New York.

Upon Mr. Potter's introducing him to a gentleman with the title of General Barlow, General Gordon remarked: "Are you a relative of the General Barlow, a gallant soldier, who was killed at Gettysburg?"

The answer was, "I am the General Barlow who was killed at Gettysburg, and you are the General Gordon who succeeded me." The meeting was that of two such brave men—two brave American soldiers.

I should add that on receiving the husband's note, which had been specially delivered, Mrs. Barlow hastened to the field, though not without danger to her person, for the battle was still in progress. She soon found her husband and had him borne to where he could receive surgical attendance.

Through her devoted ministrations he was enabled to resume his command of the Excelsior brigade and add to the splendid reputation which it had achieved under General Sickles, its first commander.

THE END.

The Unhealthy Bangkok.

An average shade temperature of 85 degrees during about ten months of the year in Bangkok is accompanied for at least six or seven of these by damp so depressing that for many hours of each day the grasshopper is a burden and sustained thought almost impossible. The Siamese recognize the drawbacks of their climate, and they seldom attempt to do anything through the hottest hours of the day. The king sleeps through these hours, reviving again about 5 o'clock with the sudden coolness of approaching sunset. Cabinet and court, and, in fact, every Siamese in the land who can do as he pleases, follows the royal example in this, and the cabinet sittings are held through the night.

Even the sturdiest Europeans suffer and degenerate if they persistently forget that life in tropical plains must go slower than at home. Many a tombstone in the Bangkok cemetery and some nameless graves in the jungles and swamps of the interior attest this fact. A low level of vitality is so inevitable that the common Siamese excuse for nonappearance, "Mai sabai" ("Not well"), creates no remark and no special interest. The chances are that the excuse is valid, but whether or no what does it signify? In Siem it is quite normal to be ill.—Contemporary Review.

Ants Have Ladies' Maids.

We know well enough that ants are the most advanced of all the insect world, that they can talk to one another and have regular laws and regulations in their tiny colonies. But the last discovery about them is, perhaps, the most astonishing of all. A naturalist has been making observations on their toilet and has discovered that each insect goes through a cleaning process as elaborate as that of a cat, only not performed by herself, but by another, who acts for the time as lady's maid.

Ants of the genus atta were the subject of these observations. These, he found, slept in relays for about three hours. When they woke up, they would stretch their limbs just like warm blooded animals. Even under the microscope he could watch them yawn. Then begins the toilet. The assistant starts by washing the face of her companion and goes on to the thorax and legs. The attitude of the cleansed is one of intense satisfaction, resembling that of a dog or a cat when its head is being scratched. She lies down with all her limbs stretched loosely out, she rolls over on her side, even her back, a perfect picture of ease. The pleasure the creature takes in being thus combed and sponged is really enjoyable to the observer.—New York World.

A Disastrous Phrase.

What great consequences sometimes result from the quick wit of a man who sees the full bearings of an event is illustrated by an incident in the life of the late Colonel John Tracey. In 1884 he was a reporter on the New York Star and did work for the Democratic national committee. He was at the Fifth Avenue hotel when the delegation of clergymen called upon Mr. Blaine. He was listening carelessly to the addresses which were being made, when his ear caught the phrase, "party of rum, Romanism and rebellion," which the Rev. Dr. Burchard uttered. He knew that it was the intention of the reporters to give small space to the speeches and thought the chances were good that the now famous expression would not be quoted. Seeing the use to which he could put it for the Democratic party, he rushed to a telegraph office and sent a short dispatch to several papers and to the party headquarters. There was time enough before election for the remark to do its work and not enough for any sufficient antidote to be applied. It was admitted that the expression had a marked and perhaps decisive effect upon the election. Tracey's alert mind had affected the future of the country in a thousand ways.—Buffalo Express.

Curious Errors in Titles.

A publisher handed me, not long since, a postal card which he had received from California. It read thus: "Have you any Treaties on The Edible Frog?" Another treasured card in his possession, coming from South Dakota, asks for a price list of his books, "especially the one that treats of Pharo." The last word was at first spelled "Faro," and then "corrected." At the same time that the publisher showed me this card he told me that he had recently received an order for a copy of "The Fair Rose of the Bondage." As you have guessed, the book referred to by the last two writers quoted above was Dr. Charles S. Robinson's "Pharaohs of the Bondage."—Critic.

Unexpected Result.

"Haven't they had some kind of rum-pus in Rev. Mr. Pfiffly's church?"

"Yes. He was taken suddenly ill one Sunday morning, and Mrs. Pfiffly, like the good little woman she is, went to the church and preached in his place."

"And the congregation, I suppose, thought it was an act of presumption, and a plain disregard of St. Paul's teachings about women speaking in church?"

"On the contrary, she gave them a sermon so much better than any her husband had ever delivered, that they want her to do all the preaching hereafter."—Chicago Tribune.

He—Doesn't he feel remorse for not having killed the rest of the cast?—Puck.

How It Looks to Him.

"Come up to my house to-morrow night," said Henpeque. "I'm going to celebrate my golden wedding."

"Golden wedding! Why, man, you've only been married three years."

"I know it; but it seems like 50; so everything is all right."—Tit-Bits.

A Time Killer.

Blinks—Summering in Lonellville, eh? I don't see what you do there to pass the time.

Jinks—Oh, time passes quickly enough when I think of the board I am paying.—N. Y. Weekly.

No Exception.

Wife—It does seem hard when a woman marries she has to take her husband's name.

Husband—Well, she takes everything else he's got, why leave that out?—Judy.

A Mistake Somewhere.

Bobby (puzzled)—I thought God made everybody?

Sunday School Teacher—Why, he did, Bobby.

Bobby—Well, anyway, pa calls sis a "tailor-made" girl.—N. Y. Journal.

Extracts.

"I love the scent of new-mown hay," He murmured to a girl one day. But she, without a thought of jest, said "Russian Violet suits me best."—Detroit Free Press.

When We Demoralize the Strength

By excesses or imprudence in eating, we cannot hope to escape the consequences for any great length of time. The most robust digestion must succumb to abuse of that important function. But supposing that we have been foolish enough to enfeeble the stomach, is the damage irreparable? By no means. The dyspeptic has only to do two things to insure his ultimate recovery. First, he should adopt an easily digestible diet. Second, he should use with regularity and persistence, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The fading gastric invigorant of the age. The multifarious symptoms of dyspepsia, and the almost invariable attendant disorders, biliousness and constipation, will assuredly cease to persecute the sufferer if the above advice is attended to. Who that has suffered the torments that chronic indigestion inflicts will regret to take advantage of a remedy which, if the test positive hereafter, the medical world, and the public is to be received with due credence, is an absolute specific for the complaint.

The Sad Fate of a Greedy Shark.

Special agents of the United States treasury travel in many states and see many strange things. They hear strange stories too. In the big custom house building every day from 9 o'clock until 4 there sits a man who is a very treasure mine of anecdotes. He is so modest, though, that he won't allow his name to be used in connection with this particular story.

"It was off Cedar Keys," said he. "I had been shark fishing and was talking of sharks to an old time sponge fisher when he told me that he had found, some 20 miles off the keys, the largest shark it had ever been his fortune to see, floating belly upward, starved to death. 'Why, the shark was as thin as a poker,' said the sponge fisher, 'and I determined to find out what ailed him. I pulled him aboard and cut him open. There, in his stomach, open end toward the head, was half of a barrel which had contained mess pork. The half barrel had evidently been thrown overboard from some vessel and the shark had gobbled it up as it hit the water, without looking to see what it was. It was too bad that he swallowed it but first, for whatever he ate after that went into the barrel and did the shark no good. So he just starved.'"—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

The Russian Police.

A tyrannical and universal secret surveillance blights all Russian national life. The clergy preach but little, the great majority never attempting to deliver a sermon, chiefly because an unguarded or misunderstood word may be so reported as to lead to severe penalties. All public meetings are prohibited, and so ridiculous is the extreme to which the superfluous bureaucracy pushes its operations that nobody is at liberty to give even a dinner party without the permit of the everlasting police.

The police officer is the god of Russia. If permission is granted for a party, a defective must be admitted. Public lectures are all but unknown, for the law sternly forbids them. Seeing that education is rapidly spreading, and that by the efforts of the authorities in this land of endless paradoxes, it is manifest that the elements of some fearful social cataclysm are being abundantly and expeditiously provided. The passport system is an unspeakable abomination, for which there is not the slightest justification. It puts travelers to the utmost inconvenience and occasions constant annoyance.—Contemporary Review.

Small presentations often prevent great mischiefs. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are very small pills in size, but are most effective in preventing the most serious forms of liver and stomach trouble. They cure constipation and headache and regulate the bowels. C. D. Stevens.

Gave Him Points.

"My wife and I have been cleaning house. Last night we put down a carpet."

"Both of you?"

"No; I put it down."

"What did your wife do?"

"She—she handed me the tacks."—Judge.

Insult to Injury.

Weary Waggle—Dis is a cold, cold world, Dusty.

Dusty—How so, Weary? Weary Waggle—Why, because! What d'ye think? I went inter dat house an' asked for some old duds, an' de missus offered me a bathing suit.—N. Y. Truth.

The bicyclist's Best Friend" is a familiar name for De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve, always ready for emergencies. While a specific for piles, it also instantly relieves and cures cuts, bruises, salt rheum, eczema and all affections of the skin. It never fails. C. D. Stevens.

Good Printing...

Is like good painting—it demands and obtains a second glance. The second glance leads to thought about and knowledge of the thing portrayed, and then on to the artist or advertiser.

The kind of printing as well as the kind of painting that it pays to do and to have done is that which obtains this "second glance." Plenty of the other kind!

We are PRINTERS. Our work obtains glances of admiration, and thus leads on to the end desired. We don't do the "other kind." Put our job room to the test.

A Little More Cost Brings Big Profits.

The addressing, folding, inclosing, sealing and stamping of five thousand circulars, with postage, will cost at least $65, whether the circular is good or bad. Notwithstanding this fixed charge, some strive to save a dollar or two on the cost of printing, although the goods advertised are to be judged by the character of the printing, just as a house is judged by the character of its salesmen. Good printing costs but little more, and that "little more" brings greater returns than any other part of the cost. Order your printing where good work is assured.

New Deal In Fruit-- During the balance of the season we will retail all Fruit at wholesale prices. This decision on our part will mean a great saving to purchasers and is an announcement that is perfectly reliable. We intend making a leader of our Fruit to draw trade. We don't expect to make any money on it, and, as we said before, simply handle it as a trade bringer. Quality, of course, is the one thing to be most considered. Our Fruits have always been the best and all Fruit carried by us in the future will be up to standard all around. Prices quoted will be only on the best quality. All our Fruit is bought through a broker on South Water Street, Chicago, who has done our buying for the past thirteen years. We receive large shipments every day. He is a good Fruit buyer as our goods have always proven. Our prices will be considerably lower on the same class of goods than you can buy elsewhere.
